On behalf of EP, Chair Miller introduced and moved approval of EP.24.068. Miller added that this proposal works to align University policy with state standards. A task force was created to review the issue and found broad support across the colleges. Most programs already meet the requirement. However, there are some challenges, particularly in the College of Agricultural, Consumer & Environmental Sciences (ACES). The proposal defines upper-division courses as 300- and 400-level courses plus designated 200-level courses approved by units. The requirement would apply to students entering in Fall 2028.

Senators raised concerns about maintaining flexibility for innovative programs and allowing possible waivers from the 40-hour upper-division requirement. Questions were asked about how 200-level courses would be designated and confirmation was given that the change would apply only to students entering in Fall 2028. Additional comments emphasized preserving academic freedom, supporting general education, and ensuring that programs retain flexibility in defining upper-division coursework.

By i-clicker and show of hands, and Poll Everywhere, the motion to adopt EP.24.068 was approved with 116 in favor, 32 opposed, and 14 abstentions.

9. PUBLIC COMMENT

Timothy Bretl, Professor and Associate Head of Aerospace Engineering, expressed concern about faculty academic freedom in classroom instruction. David Forsyth, Chair of the Senate Committee on Academic Freedom and Tenure (AF) responded that the Statutes and established procedures exist to address alleged infringements of academic freedom and noted administrators who threaten tenure demonstrate a lack of familiarity with those processes.

10. CHANCELLOR'S REMARKS

Chancellor Charles Isbell addressed the Senate for the first time, expressing gratitude for the warm welcome and emphasizing his commitment to collaboration, shared governance, and open, respectful dialogue. He reflected on his first two months in office, highlighting the University's tradition of interdisciplinary excellence and its potential to lead national conversations about the future of public higher education.

The Chancellor reported a record total enrollment of 60,848 students, including the largest first-year class in University history (9,207 students), and international enrollment of 1,410 students from 62 countries. He also noted that 72% of new students are from Illinois, emphasizing the University's strong service to the state.

He provided a brief update on the U.S. Department of Justice complaint filed against Illinois' in-state tuition and scholarships for undocumented students, explaining that the matter is under review by the Office of University Counsel in coordination with other state universities. He closed by expressing optimism about the University's mission, the importance of shared purpose, and his eagerness to continue working closely with the Senate and the broader campus community.

11. QUESTIONS FROM SENATORS

Concerns about international faculty and staff, along with students, were expressed. The Chancellor noted that International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS) were addressing the issues and efforts were ongoing.

The Chancellor was asked if he would oppose the formation of a tenure-line faculty union. He replied that his opinion on the matter was irrelevant.

A question was asked about Title VI complaints, data on cases, and safeguards to ensure confidentiality. Gio Guerra Pérez, Interim Vice Chancellor for the Office of Diversity, Equity & Inclusion, stated that an accounting of Title VI cases would be provided in November 2025, following a deadline with the U.S. Department of Education.

A motion was made to extend the meeting beyond the 5:15 pm end time. The motion was seconded and approved by voice vote.

In response to concern about doxxing and the impact on individuals, the Chancellor acknowledged the difficult situation and highlighted that the University offers resources and support for those targeted by such campaigns.

The Chancellor responded to a question about what was being done to support vulnerable departments and populations. He noted that he and other University leaders were having ongoing discussions to address these challenges and protect the University's mission.

In response to a question about how the administration would protect faculty, students, and staff from unreasonable federal demands, the Chancellor stated the University must follow the law, but will also uphold its core values, including academic freedom. The Office of University Legal Counsel will address any disagreements over the law's interpretation.
