Program Justification

Provide a brief description, using a numbered item list, of the proposed changes to the program.

We would like to phase down the four concentrations in the Secondary Education EDM program of English, Mathematics, Sciences, and Social Science: History.

The departments in the College of LAS who offers courses listed in this POS have been notified of a change, Enrollments are not expected to change. Although the concentration is being terminated, these courses are still required for students seeking licensure in the specific content areas. Courses needed for licensure are determined by the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE), and this proposal has no impact on those requirements.

Current enrollment numbers:

FA15: 4

FA16: 3

FA17: 6

FA18: 6

FA19: 6

FA20: 5

FA21: 4

FA22: 7

FA23: 4

FA24: 1

We are not changing the total hour requirement for the Secondary Ed EDM. It will remain the same.

Provide the reasoning for why each change was necessary, using a corresponding numbered item list as it relates to the brief description numbered list above.

The licensure requirements set by the Illinois State Board of Education and the College of Education are subject to change at any time. Since earning the degree does not require students to or ensure that students will obtain state licensure, phasing out the concentrations while retaining the Secondary Education degree is in the best interest of the program. It adds clarity to the difference between earning the master's degree and being awarded licensure. Students who wish to pursue licensure concurrently with the master's degree will work with their advisor and with the CoTE office to complete the necessary requirements.

At the licensure level, states verify teaching credentials only through their own online systems and paperwork. ISBE and other state agencies do not generally look to transcripts for licensure program completion. This is because there is often not alignment between campus degree program requirements and approved licensure program requirements. As a result, from a teaching licensure perspective, there is no real value in have a transcribed concentration because documentation other than transcripts are used to verify credentials in their licensing system.

At the individual candidate "job market" level, an applicant's teaching credentials would also be verified by a district through the state licensure system. It's our experience that school districts request official transcripts as a required documentation step generally after they've already extended an offer of employment. School districts use the state licensure system to verify teaching license and subject area – and they may use the transcript for determining step on the salary schedule. As such, there is no advantage or disadvantage to a student to have a transcribed concentration as the district is generally looking for number of credit hours.
