3. EP.27.034, Establish the Department of Marketing in the Gies College of Business

Chair Miller explained that the existing Department of Business Administration had grown substantially and included distinct academic fields. The proposed structure followed recommendations from an external academic review and an internal task force and was intended to support field-appropriate academic review while preserving current faculty groups, programs, curriculum, and academic activities. He reported support through department and college faculty votes, the college executive committee, a public hearing, and unanimous EP approval. No discussion followed.

7. COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE DISCUSSION: HONORARY DEGREE AWARD PROCESS (20 MINUTES)

SEC Chair Bretl reviewed the Senate's authority and responsibility under the University Statutes to recommend candidates for honorary degrees and determine the process for doing so. He summarized the current role of the Senate Committee on Honorary Degrees (HD), the pause by the Office of the Chancellor, the SR9 review, the SEC response, and the HD internal review. He described two models suggested by SR9 – full delegation to a joint advisory commission and partial delegation with a final Senate vote.

A motion was made and seconded to move into a Committee of the Whole to discuss the honorary degree award process. Senators discussed the following topics:

- The Senate's statutory responsibility and the range of ways in which the Senate may retain or delegate authority.
- The need for publicly stated honorary degree award criteria to align with nomination and review practices, including clarity regarding philanthropy and financial contributions.
- The importance of additional time, explanation, and deliberation before selecting a governance model.
- Whether reforming the existing HD process would address concerns without reducing Senate authority.
- Questions about the composition, appointment, reporting, accountability, and Senate oversight of a proposed joint advisory commission.

No conclusions were drawn. Further consideration is planned at a future Senate meeting.

Supplemental documents included:

- a) SR.26.01, Review of the Honorary Degree Award Process Cover Memo, Executive Summary, and Proposed Models of Honorary Degree Governance
- b) SC.26.25, SEC Response to the Ninth Senate Review Commission's (SR9) Review of the Honorary Degree Award Process (SR.26.01)
- c) HD.26.02, Internal Review of the Honorary Degree Award Process

A motion was made and seconded to rise and report. By unanimous consent, the Senate moved out of Committee of the Whole.

8. PUBLIC COMMENT

No public comments were shared.

9. REMARKS BY THE CHANCELLOR

The order of business was adjusted to permit Chancellor Charles L Isbell, Jr. to speak before the Committee of the Whole discussion because of his scheduled travel. The planned presentation by Irvin J. Hunt on The Big Story campuswide arts initiative was deferred when the Senate returned to the agenda's posted order of business.

Chancellor Isbell reported record enrollment, including the University's largest incoming first-year class, and discussed the opportunities and pressures associated with enrollment growth. He announced that a search was underway for a Vice Provost for Enrollment Management to coordinate enrollment strategy and related functions.

Chancellor Isbell reviewed the Illinois Leads strategic plan, including four societal challenges and five institutional goals aligned with education, research, public engagement, economic development, and working together. He described an implementation framework focused on foundational systems, goals and tactics, accountable ownership, and measurement and storytelling. Steering committees and lead administrative offices would support implementation, and additional resources and communications would be developed for colleges and units.

Chancellor Isbell also reported developments affecting international students and scholars, including a preliminary injunction concerning proposed duration-of-status rules and ongoing University review of changes affecting curricular practical training. He concluded by recognizing a recent improvement in the University's national ranking and encouraging the community to work collectively, set priorities, and use the University's position to create broad public impact.

10. QUESTIONS FROM SENATORS

Because Chancellor Isbell had departed, Provost John Coleman responded on behalf of the administration.

Faculty senator Varden (LAS) asked about the faculty-to-student ratio and the effects of enrollment growth on local housing affordability. Provost Coleman reported that faculty hiring had increased but did not provide a current faculty-to-student ratio. He noted that tuition revenue flows to colleges, which may use resources to add positions, and said housing pressures were being considered in connection with enrollment management, a planned residence hall, and coordination with local governments.

Faculty senator Stelzer (LAS) raised concerns about the decision to prohibit scheduled paper-and-pencil final examinations during the prior Canvas outage and asked what had been learned. Provost Coleman acknowledged that the outcome was not ideal, explained that senior leadership initially had been advised the outage could last for an extended period, and stated that debriefing and crisis-planning work had occurred and was continuing, including technology, examination, and communication issues.

Faculty senator Goffman (LAS) asked the administration to respond to concerns raised about facilities serving ethnic, gender, and women's studies units and cultural centers. Provost Coleman stated that administrators had been working with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (LAS) on short-term improvements and agreed that a longer-term solution was needed.

Student senator Caldwell (LAS) asked how the University would manage student housing during the transition from Taft and Van Doren residence halls to a new residence hall. Provost Coleman declined to speculate and committed to obtain an accurate response.
