Jennifer Monson (FAA)

Jennifer Monson uses choreographic practice as a means to discover connections between environmental, philosophical, and aesthetic approaches to knowledge and understandings of our surroundings. As Artistic Director of iLAND (interdisciplinary Laboratory for Art Nature Dance), she creates large-scale dance projects informed and inspired by phenomena of the natural and the built environment. Her projects include BIRD BRAIN (2000-2006), iMAP/Ridgewood Reservoir (2007), Mahomet Aquifer Project (2009), SIP (sustained immersive process)/watershed (2010), Live Dancing Archive (2012-14), and in tow (2014-16). Monson has been on the faculty at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign since 2008 and was a Marsh Professor at Large at the University of Vermont (2010-16). She served on the executive committee of the School of Fine and Applied Arts from 2008-2010 and serves currently on the Senate.

Christopher M. Span (EDUC)

Christopher M. Span, Department of Education Policy, Organization, and Leadership, College of Education, received his baccalaureate, master, and doctorate from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. His research interests pertain to the educational history of African Americans in the 19th and 20th century. He is past co-editor of the History of Education Quarterly, the number one journal in his field. He is the Vice President of Division F (History and Historiography) for the American Educational Research Association (AERA). He is one of two faculty athletics representatives at Illinois, has served on a number of Chancellor- or Provost-appointed committees, including the Campus Budget Oversight Committee (CBOC) and the Committee on Race and Ethnicity (CORE), and has an extensive service record across campus, the Champaign-Urbana community, his profession, discipline, and state. His efforts have built bridges and partnerships that have enhanced the overall profile of the university.
