Committee on University Statutes and Senate Procedures
(First Reading; For Information)

SP.14.06 Proposed Revisions to the Statutes, Article XIII, Section 8 – to authorize the University Senates Conference or the President to initiate revisions to the Statutes

BACKGROUND

On December 11, 2017, the UIUC Senate passed a proposed set of revisions to the University Statutes governing amendments to those Statutes. These were similar, but not identical, to proposed amendments adopted by the Senate at the Springfield campus. Similar amendments proposed to the Chicago Senate were defeated there.

The University Senates Conference (USC), in accordance with its charge, and with the cooperation of members of all three senates, set out to develop a version of the proposal that would be acceptable to the three senates. The result was a new text, which your Committee on University Statutes and Senate Procedures (USSP) has examined carefully, and has compared to the proposal passed by the UIUC Senate in December. USSP is satisfied that, except for extremely minor formatting of paragraph and subparagraph numbers, it is an acceptable edit of the previous text approved by the UIUC Senate.

The principle differences between the current proposal and the one adopted by the Senate in December, other than formatting, are:

- The first paragraph (lines 5-8) is new, and serves to summarize the sources of proposed amendments to the Statutes.
- There are now separate subsections (lines 41 and 67) for initiation by USC and by the President, both with wording that mirrors that of the subsection for initiation by a senate.
- A new sentence (lines 103-107) has been added to the subsection on initiation by the Board of Trustees, mirroring similar wording in the other subsections, and clearly providing that each Senate has the right to offer amended wording for any proposal.

RECOMMENDATION

The Senate Committee on University Statutes and Senate Procedures recommends approval of the following revisions to the Statutes, Article XIII, Section 8, without further amendments. This same text has been forwarded by USC to the Springfield and Chicago senates. If passed by all three senates, USC will send it to the President for consideration by the Board of Trustees.

Text to be added is underscored and text to be deleted is indicated by ~~strikeout~~ (e.g., ~~sample text for deletion~~).

PROPOSED REVISIONS TO THE STATUTES, ARTICLE XIII, SECTION 8

2 ARTICLE XIII. GENERAL PROVISIONS

3 Section 8. Amendments

4 a. Initiation of amendment

5 Proposed amendments to the Statutes can be initiated by a Senate, the University 6 Senates Conference, the President, or the Board of Trustees. In the case of 7 proposals initiated by a Senate, the University Senates Conference, or the President, 8 the process of review is the same. Specific procedures for each entity are below.

9 (1) Initiation by a Senate

10 Each of the senates ~~by vote of a majority of all members present and voting at a~~
11 ~~regular or special meeting~~ may propose amendments to these Statutes. ~~No final~~ 12 ~~senate action shall be taken on a proposed amendment until the next meeting~~ 13 ~~following the one at which it was introduced.~~ Each senate may act on the 14 proposed amendment in accord with its own established procedures, including 15 the right to concur, to modify, or to reject any proposed amendment or 16 proposed statutory text. Final action in each senate on the proposed 17 amendment may be taken by a majority of all members present and voting at a 18 regular or special meeting held not earlier than the next meeting following the 19 one at which it was introduced in that senate. ~~The secretary of a senate shall~~ 20 ~~notify the secretary of the other senates and the secretary of the University~~ 21 ~~Senates Conference of the text of a proposed amendment promptly after the~~ 22 ~~meeting at which it is introduced.~~

23 The proposed amendment shall be referred to the University Senates 24 Conference for its consideration and transmission to the other senates for 25 action; the conference may append its comments and recommendations. The 26 proposed amendment shall be placed promptly on the agenda of the other 27 senates.

28 If every senate acts affirmatively on the proposed amendment and concurs as to 29 its text, the conference shall send the proposed amendment to the president for 30 transmission to the Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the 31 senates of its action; the conference may append its comments. If the senates do 32 not agree as to the proposed amendment, the conference shall endeavor to 33 promote agreement of the senates. Where agreement cannot be effected among 34 all the senates within a reasonable period of time, but the text of a proposed 35 amendment has been agreed upon by all but one of the senates, the conference
36 shall send that proposed amendment, the recommendations of the dissenting
37 senate, and its own recommendations to the president for transmission to the 38 Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the senates of its action. A 39 senate may record and send its further comments to the president for 40 transmission to the Board of Trustees.

41 (2) Initiation by the University Senates Conference

42 The University Senates Conference by vote of a majority of all members present 43 and voting at a regular or special meeting may propose amendments to these 44 Statutes. The proposed amendment shall be transmitted to the senates for such 45 action as each of them shall see fit; the conference may append its comments.

46 The proposed amendment shall be placed promptly on the agenda of each
47 senate. Each senate may act on the proposed amendment in accord with its 48 own established procedures, including the right to concur, to modify, or to 49 reject any proposed amendment or proposed statutory text. Final action in 50 each senate on the proposed amendment may be taken by a majority of all
51 members present and voting at a regular or special meeting held not earlier 52 than the next meeting following the one at which it was introduced in that 53 senate.

54 If every senate acts affirmatively on the proposed amendment and concurs as to 55 its text, the conference shall send the proposed amendment to the president for 56 transmission to the Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the 57 senates of its action; the conference may append its comments. If the senates do 58 not agree as to the proposed amendment, the conference shall endeavor to 59 promote agreement of the senates. Where agreement cannot be effected among 60 all the senates within a reasonable period of time, but the text of a proposed 61 amendment has been agreed upon by all but one of the senates, the conference
62 shall send that proposed amendment, the recommendations of the dissenting
63 senate, and its own recommendations to the president for transmission to the 64 Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the senates of its action. A 65 senate may record and send its further comments to the president for 66 transmission to the Board of Trustees.

67 (3) Initiation by the President

68 The President may propose amendments to these Statutes and refer them to the 69 University Senates Conference for its consideration, comment, and 70 transmission to the senates for action. The proposed amendment shall be 71 transmitted to the senates for such action as each of them shall see fit; the 72 conference may append its comments.

73 The proposed amendment shall be placed promptly on the agenda of each
74 senate. Each senate may act on the proposed amendment in accord with its 75 own established procedures, including the right to concur, to modify, or to 76 reject any proposed amendment or proposed statutory text. Final action in 77 each senate on the proposed amendment may be taken by a majority of all
78 members present and voting at a regular or special meeting held not earlier 79 than the next meeting following the one at which it was introduced in that 80 senate.

81 If every senate acts affirmatively on the proposed amendment and concurs as to 82 its text, the conference shall send the proposed amendment to the president for 83 transmission to the Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the

84 senates of its action; the conference may append its comments. If the senates do 85 not agree as to the proposed amendment, the conference shall endeavor to 86 promote agreement of the senates. Where agreement cannot be effected among 87 all the senates within a reasonable period of time, but the text of a proposed
88 amendment has been agreed upon by all but one of the senates, the conference
89 shall send that proposed amendment, the recommendations of the dissenting
90 senate, and its own recommendations to the president for transmission to the 91 Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the senates of its action. A 92 senate may record and send its further comments to the president for 93 transmission to the Board of Trustees.

94 (4) Initiation by the Board of Trustees

95 The Board of Trustees may initiate proposals to amend the Statutes, but the 96 board shall not finally adopt any such proposal without first seeking the advice
97 of the president, the senates, and the University Senates Conference. Any 98 proposal to amend the Statutes which is initiated by the Board of Trustees shall 99 be transmitted through the president to the University Senates Conference and 100 transmitted by the conference, with its recommendations, to the senates for 101 consideration and advice.

102 The proposed amendment shall be placed promptly on the agenda of each of 103 the senates. Each senate may act on the proposed amendment in accord with 104 its own established procedures, including the right to concur, to modify, or to 105 reject any proposed amendment or proposed statutory text. Final action in 106 each senate on the proposed amendment may be taken by a majority of all 107 members present and voting at a regular or special meeting.

108 If the senates do not agree in their advice concerning the proposed amendment, 109 the conference shall endeavor to promote agreement; where agreement cannot 110 be achieved within a reasonable period of time, the conference shall send the 111 advice of the senates and its own recommendations to the president for 112 transmission to the Board of Trustees and shall simultaneously notify the 113 senates of its action. A senate may record and send its further comments to the 114 president for transmission to the Board of Trustees.

115 b. An amendment shall become effective when approved by the Board of Trustees or 116 at such later time as the board may specify.
